

2.3.1 Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

Sample files for Seminars

We organise seminars for students in order to provide better thoughtfulness on a particular topic related to the seminars. We also invite industrial experts and seniors from the organisation to provide better insight on the topic.

The opportunity to speak with professionals in the field is offered by seminars. Students often learn about new information and skills related to the subject matter by having discussions about pertinent topics within the particular subject.

Significance:

1. Learn about current events
2. Improve communication skills
3. Gain knowledge from experts
4. Network with others
5. Gain confidence and motivation
6. Learn new perspectives
7. Understand theoretical concepts
8. Learn soft skills
9. Help with research
