

2.3.1 Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

Sample files for Assignments and Internship Files

Assignments and Internship Projects:

Students are required to prepare assignments in every semester based on specific topics allotted to them by every subject teacher. Proper format is provided by our head of department as per affiliated university format. Students are trained for their presentation and writing skills. Assignments support students in creating lifelong learning processes. They begin to conceive and devise novel concepts, subjects, inquiries, and investigative techniques in order to generate distinctive features of particular material from their agenda.

Students of last year are required to prepare Internship Project files depending upon the requirement of their course curriculum. Students are provided with internship opportunity information and preparation of project files in a prescribed manner. After preparation of files, proper mock VIVA VOCE is conducted to make them prepare for their VIVA examinations as per their course curriculum.
