WORLD SPARROW DAY

Date: 20th March, 2024

On March 20th, the world celebrates World Sparrow Day! This international initiative aims to raise awareness about the house sparrow, a common bird in urban environments around the world. But World Sparrow Day isn't just about sparrows; it's a call to action for the conservation of all birds that share our cities and towns.

Sparrows, particularly the house sparrow, have been facing population decline for several reasons. Habitat loss due to urbanization, pesticide use, and competition for nesting sites are all significant threats. World Sparrow Day serves as a reminder of the vital role these birds play in our ecosystem.

The occasion of the World Sparrow Day Lucknow Public College of Professional Studies organized sparrow day by increasing the habitats of birds by placing multiple nests within the campus.
