ARPAN: THE DONATION DRIVE 2023

Date of activity: 23/ 12/ 2023
No. of Students: 881
Venue: Hanuman Setu, Hazratganj
Brief about the activity:

On 23 December 2023, LPCPS organized "Arpan", a clothes distribution initiative. This NSS initiative took place in the slum areas of Hanuman Setu, Hazratganj. All the college students participated positively in the Nobel event. Students got items that were useless for them but might fulfill the basic necessities of the people in need. All the staff members participated in the event humbly and distributed the necessities along with Dean Sir. The purpose of the event was fulfilled when we all received blessings from the poor with a glimpse of a smile on their face. LPCPS has always been a temple of education but, along with that it teaches moral values and social responsibilities to the students. This is how we the students of LPCPS are fulfilling our social responsibilities along with doing excellence in the field of education.

Animal Welfare Awareness Campaign

Date of activity: 27/ 01/ 2024

Number of Students: 90

Venue: LPCPS Conference Hall

Brief about the activity:

An Awareness Campaign on Animal Welfare was organized for the students of Lucknow Public College of Professional Studies on 27th January, 2024. This was conducted by NSS Unit of LPCPS for the holistic overall development of the College students. The session was conducted by Ms. Shaba Bano, Honorary Animal Welfare Officer of 'Society for Animal Welfare'. The goal of the session was to educate the new generation to respect animals and teach how to assist other living beings who are less fortunate. A speaker provided basic knowledge and advices on how everyone can easily help strays survive; highlighting which are the basic needs of an animal such as the necessity of receiving food, water and a secure shelter where to rest and recover away from dangers and bad weather conditions.

Additionally, students learned how important it is to adopt responsibly, raise awareness for preventing animal cruelty abuse and to report animal abuse and rescue lost or injured animals.

DRESS DESIGNING WITH NEWSPAPER

Date of activity: 11/02/2024

No. of Students: 10

Venue: LPCPS Campus, BA-JMC Media Lab

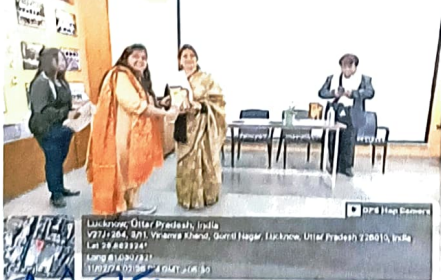

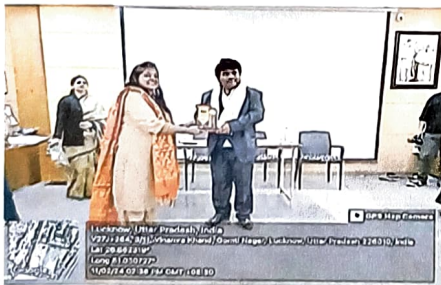

Brief about the activity:

On 11th February 2024, Kalakriti Club of Lucknow Public College of Professional Studies (LPCPS), in collaboration with the NSS Unit of LPCPS, organized an exciting event titled "Dress Designing with Newspaper" during a cultural event named Xenium International 6.0 – The Annual Fcst. The event aimed to encourage creativity and innovative thinking among students, as they were tasked with designing dresses entirely out of newspapers.

The event saw enthusiastic participation, with a total of five teams competing. Each team consisted of two students, representing various educational institutions including National PG College, Modern Girls College, Jaipuria Institute of Management, and two teams from LPCPS. The competition was judged by Mr. Mohan and Ms. Rakhi, who assessed the participants based on creativity, design, presentation, and overall use of newspaper material.

The teams worked diligently to create innovative and visually appealing dress designs, showcasing their skills and imagination. After a keen evaluation, the winner of the event was declared to be the team from National PG College. Their design impressed the judges with its originality and execution, earning them the top position.

The event was a great success, fostering teamwork, innovation, and resourcefulness among the participants, while also providing a platform for students to showcase their talents in dress design.

Nukkad Natak on "Violence Can Be in Any Form"

Date of activity: 12/02/2024

Number of students: 12

Venue: LPCPS- Play Ground

Brief about the activity:

The NSS Unit of LPCPS, in collaboration with the Drama Club, organized an impactful Nukkad Natak (street play) on February 12, 2024. The theme of the performance, "Violence Can Be in Any Form," highlighted the various facets of violence prevalent in society and aimed to raise awareness among the audience.

The natak was performed by 11 talented students of the Drama Club, who used their powerful acting skills to convey the message effectively. Through gripping dialogues, expressive gestures, and emotive scenes, the performers depicted how violence manifests in different forms, such as domestic abuse, emotional harassment, bullying, and societal discrimination. The play emphasized the importance of recognizing these issues and taking collective steps to address them.

The interactive nature of the Nukkad Natak drew an enthusiastic response from the audience, which included students, faculty, and local community members. The dramatic portrayal of real-life situations left a lasting impression, encouraging viewers to reflect on their roles in preventing violence.

This initiative by the NSS Unit and Drama Club underscored the power of art in addressing social issues and reaffirmed LPCPS's commitment to fostering awareness and empathy within the community.

CLAY MODELING SCULPTURE

Date of activity: 12/02/2024

No. of Students: 11

Venue: LPCPS Campus, Room No. 101

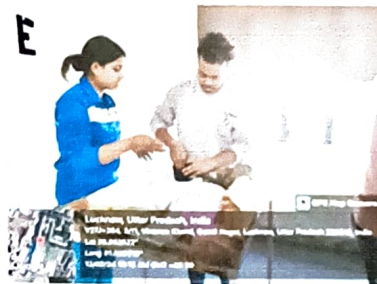

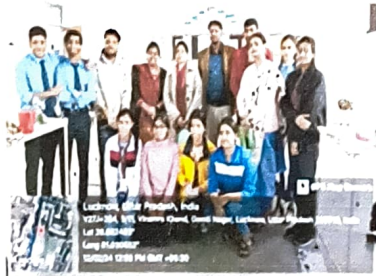

Brief about the activity:

On 12th February 2024, the Kalakriti Club of Lucknow Public College of Professional Studies (LPCPS), in collaboration with the NSS Unit, organized clay modeling sculpture event during a cultural event named Xenium International 6.0 – The Annual Fest. The event saw a vibrant participation of six teams, five teams comprising two members and one team comprising solo participation. The teams represented esteemed institutions, including the University of Lucknow, Jaipuria Institute of Management, Modern Girls, and three teams from LPCPS. The event was judged by three distinguished individuals:

1. Mr. Rajesh, Head of Art and Craft at LPS Vrindavan,
2. Ms. Rakhi, the Founder of Niradi Organics and an accomplished artist, and
3. Ms. Rashmi, a talented artist.

The participants were tasked with creating intricate sculptures out of clay, showcasing their creativity and artistic skills.

After a keenly contested event, the team from Jaipuria Institute of Management emerged as the winners, scoring an impressive 70 out of 90. Their work stood out for its precision and creativity. The event was a great success, fostering creativity, teamwork, and artistic expression among the participants while promoting a sense of healthy competition across various educational institutions. The judges praised all teams for their effort and innovation in clay modeling.

PLANTATION DRIVE IN VILLAGE

Date of activity: 17/02/2024

Number of students: 10

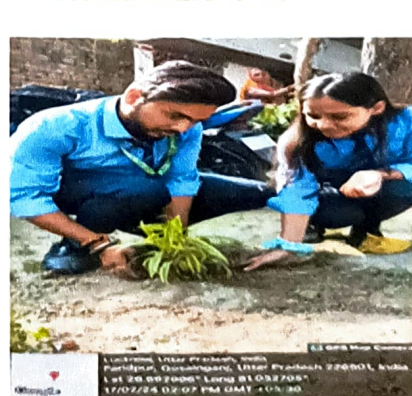

Venue: Fareedpur, Village

Brief about the activity:

Plantation drive organized by the NSS unit of Lucknow Public College of Professional Studies, a group of 10 students visited Fareedpur Village to contribute to environmental conservation. The event was aimed at increasing awareness about the importance of trees in maintaining ecological balance and improving the local environment.

The participants actively engaged in planting saplings across various parts of the village. The drive was carefully planned, with students ensuring that the saplings were planted in suitable locations to enhance green cover and prevent soil erosion. The team also focused on selecting native plant species that are better suited to the local climate and can grow successfully in the region.

The village Pradhan and the villagers actively supported the students, and the event was marked by a sense of collective responsibility toward environmental preservation. The NSS unit also emphasized the importance of continued care for the saplings and encouraged local residents to adopt sustainable practices in their daily lives.

SESSION ON NATIONAL SCIENCE DAY

Date of activity: 28/02/2024

Number of participants: 28 students

Venue: LPCPS Campus, Block - A

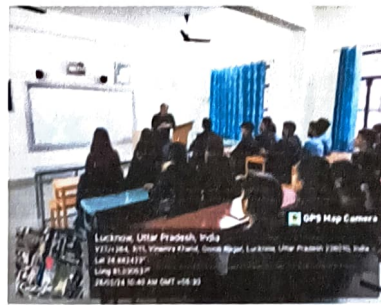

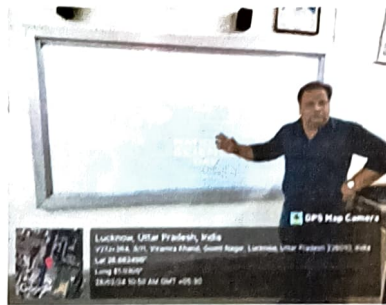

Brief about the activity

On February 28, 2024, Lucknow Public College of Professional Studies (LPCPS) observed National Science Day with a special session conducted by Dr. Abhay Shankar Pandey, the NSS Programme Coordinator of the college. The event aimed to inspire students to appreciate the significance of scientific exploration and its role in societal development.

Dr. Pandey began his session by highlighting the legacy of National Science Day, commemorating the discovery of the Raman Effect by Sir C.V. Raman. He emphasized the importance of curiosity, experimentation, and perseverance in the field of science. Through engaging anecdotes and real-world examples, he encouraged students to pursue scientific endeavors and contribute to solving global challenges such as climate change, technological advancement, and healthcare.

The session also included an interactive Q&A segment where students actively participated, posing questions about career prospects in science and the application of theoretical knowledge in practical domains. Dr. Pandey motivated students to engage in innovative projects and leverage their academic resources to create a meaningful impact on society.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks, leaving students inspired to delve deeper into scientific exploration and uphold the spirit of National Science Day.
