ABOUT THE WORKSHOP:

Investors, those who have invested money systematically over last many years, have enjoyed multifold returns in their portfolio. They have been able to achieve all their financial objectives such as children's higher education, children's marriage, stress free retirement etc. through Mutual Funds. Still in India, most of the people are not aware of benefits of mutual funds.

To make people aware the benefits of investing in Mutual Funds, LPCPS is inviting Mutual Fund Experts who will share their learnings, experiences and educate us about various investment categories in Mutual Funds.

The time has come when your savings alone may not be enough to cope with the ever-growing cost of livelihood, especially when it comes to healthcare. Like every other basic necessity, health expenses have also become exceptionally high in India in recent times. And in order to protect your savings and financial health from an unexpected medical emergency, proper health insurance has become one of the fundamental requirements of life today.

The workshop will focus on key concepts of mutual funds and the necessity of health insurance in present scenario.
